Moderator: Now we will begin the TSI HOLDINGS CO., LTD. Q1 financial results briefing for the fiscal year ending February 2027.

Q1 FY2027 Overview

Executive Summary

- ✓ During the quarter under review, Japan's domestic economy showed resilience, with improvements in consumer spending, pricing, and employment conditions, which in turn supported further wage growth. However, concerns about the economic outlook have increased due to heightened sensitivity to consumer prices, driven by a weaker yen and inflation. Additionally, geopolitical risks, including the conflict in the Middle East, have emerged, adding to these concerns.
- ✓ In the apparel market, consumer sentiment and overall market conditions remained strong, supported by the macroeconomic environment and favorable spring weather, which was more stable and warmer than usual.
- ✓ Net sales saw a significant increase, primarily due to the consolidation of Daytona International Co., Ltd. and Waterfront Co., Ltd. at the start of the fiscal year, along with a rebound in sales of our core brands. Additionally, operating income reached a record high for the first quarter.

Shimoji: Good morning. Thank you very much for your continuous support. We will begin the Q1 financial results briefing for the fiscal year ending February 2027. Thank you.

First, I would like to give you an overview of this quarter.

Japan's domestic economy showed resilience, with improvements in consumer spending, pricing, and employment conditions, which in turn supported further wage growth. On the other hand, concerns about the economic outlook have increased due to heightened sensitivity to consumer prices, driven by a weaker yen and inflation. Additionally, geopolitical risks, including the conflict in the Middle East, have emerged, adding to these concerns.

In the domestic apparel market, consumer sentiment and overall market conditions remained strong, supported by the macroeconomic environment and the first favorable spring weather in several years, which was warmer and more stable than usual.

Regarding our financial performance, net sales increased significantly, primarily due to the consolidation of Daytona International and Waterfront at the start of the fiscal year, as well as a rebound in sales of our core brands. Additionally, operating income reached a record high for Q1.

Performance Highlights

Net sales increased year on year, driven by the expansion of the consolidated scope and growth in existing businesses. Operating income rose 65% year on year, reaching a record high for the first quarter, supported by structural reforms and effective cost controls. Progress against the full-year plan has been steady.

- Net sales increased, driven by the consolidation of Daytona International Co., Ltd. and Waterfront Co., Ltd., as well as a recovery in sales at our core brands, with existing businesses also delivering year-on-year growth.
- Operating income increased significantly, supported by higher sales and disciplined cost management.
- Net income increased year on year, despite the previous year's temporary boost from tax effects.

Performance highlights. For the quarter in review, net sales were JPY46.2 billion, operating income was JPY2.5 billion, and net income was JPY2.1 billion.

Net sales also increased in our existing businesses, driven by the expansion of the consolidated scope and growth in core brands. Operating income rose 65% YoY, to a record high for Q1, supported by effective cost controls, including adjustments to advertising expenses, in addition to the impact of increased net sales. Progress against the full-year plan has been steady. Net sales increased as well.

Performance Highlights

Next is a breakdown of the results.

Net sales were JPY46.2 billion, a 30% increase YoY, representing a JPY10.6 billion increase. Net sales from existing businesses also increased 2.8% YoY. In addition to the impact of contributions of companies consolidated through M&As, existing businesses performed steadily, with men's casual brands continuing to deliver double-digit sales growth. Several women's brands, including NATURAL BEAUTY BASIC and JILL by JILL STUART, also recovered, and we are optimistic about their growth going forward.

Gross profit was JPY26 billion, and the gross profit margin was 56.3%. Although the gross profit margin declined by 1.2 percentage points YoY, this reflects the business models of the newly consolidated subsidiaries. The gross profit margin of existing businesses improved by 0.2 percentage points YoY. Lower indirect costs resulting from cost optimization initiatives improved the gross profit margin in existing businesses. Product costs improved due to lower procurement costs resulting from structural reforms and the sell-through of prior-year inventory, but the benefit was almost offset by a higher markdown rate in the quarter.

SG&A expenses are JPY23.5 billion, up 24% (JPY45 billion YoY). The SG&A expense ratio was 50.9%, down 2.4 percentage points YoY. This is due to the low SG&A ratios of the two newly consolidated companies, as well as improved fixed-cost efficiency, including personnel expenses, driven by a recovery in sales at existing businesses. In addition, advertising and promotional expenses shifted from a restrained approach until the previous year to more proactive spending, with a focus on improving efficiency. This has contributed to overall improvement.

Q1 FY2027 Overview

Operating Income: Year-on-Year Variance Analysis

The recovery in sales of existing businesses, led by core brands, contributed to higher operating income.

Continued structural reforms and disciplined cost control further enhanced profitability.

In addition, portfolio changes, including M&A and business exits, provided a further earnings boost.

Next is the year-on-year analysis of operating income.

The recovery in sales of existing businesses, led by core brands, contributed to higher operating income. Furthermore, in the current fiscal year, which is the final year of the TIP27 initiative, we have taken our structural reform efforts a step further. While continuing to improve our cost of goods sold, we have actively invested in strategic expenses and advertising and promotional expenses, which we had been curbing until the previous fiscal year, and implemented disciplined cost control. We believe this has led to enhanced profitability, and we are confident that our underlying earning power has indeed strengthened. In addition, the positive effects of business exits implemented in the previous fiscal year, as well as contributions from newly consolidated businesses through M&As, have also accumulated.

Q1 FY2027 Overview

Operating Income: Five-Year Trend

Operating income reached a record high for the first quarter and progressed steadily against the full-year plan.

While profitability had remained weak prior to the structural reforms, earnings have steadily improved since the initial restructuring phase in the first year of the TIP27 Medium-Term Management Plan.

Operating income trend.

Profit levels improved against the backdrop of a recovery in sales from existing businesses, and operating income reached a record high for Q1. We made steady progress against the full-year plan and, overall, we made a positive start.

While profitability remained weak before the structural reforms, earnings have steadily improved since the first year of the TIP27 medium-term management plan, when we began implementing the reforms. We will continue to advance these reforms to further improve our profitability.

Net Income Impact – Itemized Breakdown

Non-operating income, including dividend income and the share of profit of entities accounted for using the equity method, resulted in net non-operating income of approximately ¥0.8 billion, bringing ordinary income to ¥3.3 billion.

Interest expenses increased due to borrowings for M&A financing. As a result, profit before income taxes reached ¥3.5 billion, and quarterly profit attributable to owners of parent totaled ¥2.1 billion, representing a net profit margin of 4.5%.

(Unit: JPY billion)

Non-operating Income	- Dividend income 0.5B - Foreign exchange gains 0.1B - Share of profit of entities accounted for using equity method 0.2B
Non-operating Expenses	Interest expenses 0.2B
Extraordinary Income/Losses	Net Income on sale of Investment Securities 0.2B
Income Taxes	- Corporation, inhabitant and enterprise taxes 1.3B - Income taxes – deferred 0.1B

Note: Only major items are shown.

Next, we'll look at the net income impact and its itemized breakdown.

Ordinary income was JPY3.3 billion, up by 73% YoY. Profit before income taxes reached JPY3.5 billion. Quarterly profit totaled JPY2.1 billion, up 6% YoY.

Regarding non-operating income, while payment risks have increased due to borrowing to fund M&A activities, non-operating income was up by approximately JPY800 million, driven by higher dividend income and the share of profit of entities accounted for using the equity method. For extraordinary income and losses, we recorded net income on the sale of investment securities of approximately JPY200 million. Although income taxes appear to have increased compared to the previous year, taxes were temporarily lower in the prior period due to tax effects, so the figures for the current period reflect a normalized level.

Next is the balance sheet.

Although cash and deposits decreased to 82.6% of the previous period's level, reflecting growth investments including M&As, shareholder returns, and loan repayments, the current balance remains within an appropriate working capital range.

Inventories increased due to the newly consolidated subsidiaries, while inventory levels in existing businesses remained in line with the previous fiscal year. The Group will continue to improve inventory efficiency, which is a group-wide task.

Borrowings increased due to procurement for working capital and M&As. Borrowings were managed flexibly through committed credit facilities. Treasury stock increased from the previous year since we repurchased treasury shares worth JPY3 billion in April 2026.

Q1 FY2027 Sales Performance by Channel

Sales by Channel

Sales at domestic physical stores increased by ¥4.4 billion year on year, reaching 119.9% of the previous year's level.

Department stores returned to growth at 101.3% as the impact of business withdrawals in the previous year subsided.

Sales at directly operated stores grew to 124.3%, driven by strong performance from existing men's casual brands and contributions from M&A.

Domestic Misc. increased to 125.4%, supported by higher wholesale sales in the golf business.

Overseas sales fell to 64.5% of the prior-year level, reflecting the previous year's divestiture and continued weakness in HUF U.S. wholesale.

Here is the existing channels overview.

Sales at domestic physical stores increased by JPY4.4 billion YoY, reaching 120% of the previous year's level. Department stores grew to 101% of the previous year's level as the impact of business withdrawals in the previous year subsided. Sales at stores other than department stores grew to 124% of the previous year's level, driven by strong performance from existing men's casual brands and contributions from M&As. Sales of all domestic physical stores of existing businesses were 102%.

Domestic misc. increased to 125.4% of the previous year's level, supported mainly by higher wholesale sales in the golf business. Overseas sales fell to 64.5% of the prior-year level, reflecting the previous year's divestiture of Tactics and continued weakness in HUF in US wholesale.

Q1 FY2027 Sales Performance by Channel

E-commerce Sales

Domestic e-commerce (EC) sales increased 88.3% year on year, up ¥6.0 billion.

The subsidiaries consolidated in the second half of the previous fiscal year made significant contributions to both owned and third-party EC.

Owned EC sales in Japan increased by ¥2.2 billion year on year to 186.7% of the previous year's level, while domestic third-party EC sales increased by ¥3.7 billion to 189.4%.

Overseas EC sales fell to 41.8% of the prior year's level due to the divestiture of the U.S. business in the previous fiscal year.

E-commerce sales.

Domestic e-commerce sales increased 88% YoY, up JPY6 billion. The two newly consolidated companies made significant contributions to both owned and third-party EC.

Owned EC sales in Japan increased by JPY2.2 billion YoY to 186.7% of the previous year's level. In existing businesses, the figure was 107% of the previous period's level. I'll talk more about mix.tokyo on a later page.

As mentioned earlier, overseas EC sales fell to 41.8% of the prior year's level due to the divestiture of the US business. Regarding HUF in the US, we have focused its investment on e-commerce, and EC sales have reached 102% of the previous period's level.

Core Brands

Sales of our key womenswear brands recovered, driven primarily by growth at existing stores and on our proprietary e-commerce platform, supporting overall sales growth. Men's brands, led by AVIREX, and FREAK'S STORE continued to perform well.

FREAK'S STORE vs PY* 106.0% - Delivered stronger year-on-year growth, supported by steady performance across all sales channels. - Successful Taiwan pop-up in May paved the way for the brand's first standalone store outside Japan, scheduled to open this fall. *Compared with the pre-acquisition period.	AVIREX vs PY 125.7% - Core items, collaboration collections, and promotional campaigns drove double-digit sales growth through a significant increase in customer traffic. - The first AVIREX WOMAN pop-up at the POP YOURS hip-hop festival strengthened the women's business and expanded the brand's fan base.	MARGARET HOWELL vs PY 106.2% - Promoted the brand's signature linen shirts in March, driving strong sales. - Integrated campaigns across stores and the proprietary e-commerce platform, together with Golden Week promotions, attracted repeat customers across all sales channels.
NATURAL BEAUTY BASIC vs PY 103.1% - Sales exceeded the previous year's level, driven by higher customer traffic at existing stores following store optimization. - The business has entered a recovery phase, driven by improved inventory turnover following a review of the product assortment. 30th anniversary campaigns will be rolled out from August.	NANO universe vs PY 90.4% - Comparable store sales remained stable, while overall sales declined due to store closures. - Optimizing inventory and advertising efficiency to improve profitability. - The Anti Soaked® × Brooks Brothers collaboration sold out at some locations.	PEARLY GATES vs PY 98.2% - Sales declined as store traffic, particularly at outlet stores, remained weak despite a recovery in owned e-commerce. - Earnings increased, further improving profitability. - Collaborations and limited-edition products supported sales.

Business highlights.

FREAK'S STORE has achieved 106% of the previous year's level. Steady growth continues across all sales channels, with men's apparel performing particularly well. The successful Taiwan pop-up in May paved the way for the brand's first standalone store outside Japan, scheduled to open in Taiwan this fall.

Regarding NATURAL BEAUTY BASIC, although the number of stores has decreased by about 10, sales exceeded the previous year's level, driven by higher customer traffic. Inventory turnover has improved following a review of the product assortment launched in the previous year. We're looking forward to the 30th-anniversary campaigns that will roll out starting next month.

At PEARLY GATES, sales are slightly below the previous year's level as store traffic, particularly at outlet stores, remained weak. However, a double-digit recovery compared to the previous year was achieved in owned e-commerce, and earnings also increased.

Emerging Growth Brands

Strong-performing brands expanded sales through timely product planning and appropriate inventory allocation. JILL by JILL STUART entered the Taiwan market, broadening its sales channels.

Schott N.Y.C.	vs PY 121.2 %	JILL by JILL STUART	vs PY 110.4 %	STUSSY	vs PY 102.8 %
- Performance exceeded both the previous year and the plan. Strong sales of blousons and chiffon sukajan jackets, together with continued demand for the popular hickory denim collection, supported growth. - The collaboration with Miller, launched in May, drove strong sales of tank tops.		- Sales grew across all channels, with comparable store sales up 15% as both customer traffic and average spend exceeded the previous year. - Wallets and leather accessories drove sales in March and April. - Began sales at LaLaport Taipei Nangang within the NANO universe store alongside AVIREX.		- Exclusive Chapter Pack collections drove sales at the Harajuku, Shibuya, and Osaka stores. - Optimized inventory allocation ensured stable product availability and increased average spend. - Securing more time for customer service is expected to improve conversion rates.

Next is emerging growth brands.

JILL by JILL STUART performed well, posting sales of 110% of the previous year's level. Sales grew across all channels, with existing store sales up 15% as both customer traffic and average spend exceeded the previous year. Wallets and leather accessories drove sales in March and April. Although we faced some challenges in March and April of last year, we believe we successfully capitalized on the demand associated with the start of a new lifestyle this fiscal year. Moreover, sales on owned e-commerce platforms also recovered, contributing to the overall increase. In addition, the brand began sales at LaLaport Taipei Nangang within the NANO universe store, marking further expansion of its overseas presence.

Waterfront Co., Ltd.

Waterfront (consolidated in December 2025) delivered solid performance, with sales increasing 10.0% year on year.*
Pop-up events and promotional campaigns will further enhance brand awareness and drive sales.

Waterfront was consolidated from partway through the previous fiscal year and has been included in the consolidation since the beginning of this fiscal year. Sales increased 10% YoY, reflecting solid performance. To support further sales growth, we are implementing various promotional initiatives aimed at further enhancing brand awareness. In addition to being featured on the TV program Cambria Palace, Waterfront's exposure across external media contributes to increased brand awareness.

First, Waterfront held its first-ever pop-up events featuring the direct-store-exclusive COKAGE+ line and pop-up-exclusive colors to drive foot traffic and generate buzz.

In addition, at the direct-store Waterfront Jiyugaoka, we held a Mother's Day event to capitalize on gift-giving demand. In addition to the umbrella promotion, a complimentary flower with every purchase and store wrapping designed by memorif were also very well received.

Furthermore, Waterfront has expanded to include group-company-owned E-commerce platforms, namely mix.tokyo and Daytona Park, starting this fiscal year. Leveraging the Group's sales channels, Waterfront is reaching new customer segments beyond existing sales channels.

We will continue to work toward increasing brand awareness and boosting sales through initiatives such as pop-up stores, events, and e-commerce integration. Pop-up events are currently being held at Tokyo Solamachi and Mitsui Outlet Park Iruma, so we look forward to seeing you all there.

mix.tokyo Update

Anniversary campaigns drove continued sales growth, while membership steadily expanded.

Event sponsorships and a pilot program using AI-generated models for product styling images supported brand awareness and operational development.

Here is the mix.tokyo update.

In terms of sales trends, the spring collection got off to a strong start in March, and sales continued to grow throughout the quarter, particularly for our core brands. In addition, customer traffic recovered throughout the three-month period, with each month exceeding the prior-year level. As a result, cumulative Q1 sales increased 23% YoY, indicating a strong start. New registrations were up 12% YoY, showing steady growth.

As part of our brand awareness campaign, FREE'S MART, which is available at mix.tokyo, showcased the brand at Rakuten GirlsAward, one of Japan's largest fashion and music events. In addition, mix.tokyo sponsored FORTY DEGREES JAPAN to expand brand awareness among younger consumers and attract new members. We supported up-and-coming creators and generated a great deal of excitement through promotions featuring a mobile advertising truck driving all around the town.

Additionally, starting in April, we launched a pilot program using AI-generated models for product styling images to improve efficiency, reduce production time and costs, and enhance the content quality of e-commerce. First, we plan to thoroughly evaluate image quality, reproducibility, and actual operational workload, with the goal of reducing the time and costs associated with photography and production. Going forward, we will develop this into a new operational foundation to streamline the production of e-commerce images.

Sustainability Management

The Company has received strong external recognition for its initiatives to address environmental issues.

In the current fiscal year, it will further accelerate sustainability management through business-driven initiatives, including resale initiatives and continued support for local communities.

This is about sustainability management.

We have received an "A" Supplier Engagement Rating for two consecutive years. This is the result of our ongoing climate action across the entire supply chain, and we will continue to further advance our action.

AVIREX has launched its official resale platform. In recent years, the resale market has been booming, and keeping clothing in circulation has become a key challenge for the apparel industry. In light of these environmental changes, we are carrying out this project to embody the brand's history and cycle.

In addition, we are continuing our community support activities in Kamikawa, Hokkaido, with which we have a comprehensive partnership agreement. The golf apparel brand Jack Bunny!! participated in the Kamikawa Gakuen Concept Festival, an initiative organized by the town's Board of Education. We hosted golf experience sessions and workshops using surplus fabric, supporting learning and development opportunities for local children.

We will continue to integrate our contributions to the environment and society into our business operations, thereby enhancing our corporate value.

Looking Ahead to Q2

- The first quarter delivered year-on-year growth in both sales and profit on both a consolidated and existing business basis. In addition to the benefits of structural reforms, sales capabilities—an area that had been a key challenge in the previous fiscal year—are showing encouraging signs of improvement.
- The addition of Daytona International and Waterfront to the Group has fostered greater unity and a shift in mindset across the organization, including existing TSI businesses.
- To become an employer of choice, opportunities for dialogue between management and employees have been significantly expanded. The Company has also become increasingly attractive to new graduates.
- Continue to strengthen existing businesses, growth investments, and shareholder returns to enhance corporate value.

Finally, the first quarter delivered growth in sales and profit on both a consolidated and an existing business basis. In addition to the benefits of the structural reforms, we are beginning to see encouraging results from our efforts to strengthen our selling capabilities, which had been one of our key challenges in the previous fiscal year.

We realized that the addition of Daytona International and Waterfront to the Group has fostered greater unity and a shift in mindset across the TSI Group, including the existing businesses. Furthermore, to become an employer of choice, we have significantly expanded opportunities for dialogue between management and employees. In addition, the Company has also become increasingly attractive to new graduates.

We will continue to strengthen existing businesses, growth investments, and shareholder returns to enhance corporate value more than ever before.

“We create empathy and social value across the world through the power of fashion entertainment.” At the TSI HOLDINGS Group, we will continue to push forward with reforms more than ever before and take on new challenges, including new trials. We would greatly appreciate your continued support.

Thank you very much.
